ECO greenhouses for schools

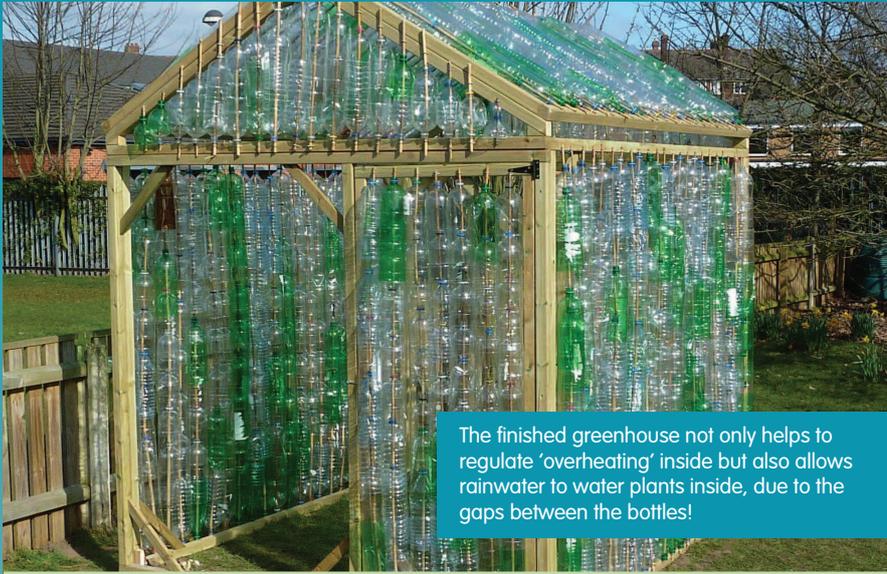

Help us to help local schools to install their very own ECO Bottle Greenhouse!

It's up to you how much, or how little, you'd like to get involved.
From purchasing a greenhouse,
to helping build it (it's not a difficult job!), kids and schools get huge benefits.

The finished greenhouse not only helps to regulate 'overheating' inside but also allows rainwater to water plants inside, due to the gaps between the bottles!

1300 2 litre bottles are needed per greenhouse

Easy to build

A donation that just keeps growing!

How it works:

How we'd like you to get involved:

Become a Business Partner of Rotary by either contributing and/or building the greenhouse. You can either contribute just the cost and we'll organise the installation, or bring your company along on the day and help to build it (it takes 4 people 2 days to complete one greenhouse).

The cost of 1 greenhouse is only £185

The School:

The school save the 1300 2 litre plastic bottles needed to make the greenhouse and help to build it.

The greenhouses touch on many aspects of the National School's Curriculum including Maths and English as well as eco issues such as recycling.

The Business Partnership Initiative

is an initiative designed to work with Companies, acting as a broker to fulfil Corporate Social Responsibility needs. Working with employees, in multi-discipline teams, identifying, designing and fulfilling community projects, to enhance confidence, communication skills, networking opportunities, project management skills and budgetary experience.

Our Objective

The primary objectives of this initiative are:

- To help companies and organisations fulfil Corporate Social Responsibility objectives through service to the local community.
- To provide opportunities for the personal development of employees through local community service projects.
- To introduce companies and employees to the benefits of Rotary as a means of long term commitment to service in the community.
